

HERBS FOR A WINDOWSILL

These durable herbs are willing to spend the winter indoors growing on your windowsill without supplemental light. Although they'll grow more slowly during the winter, you'll still have a supply of fresh herbs to liven up your cooking. When spring arrives, transplant your windowsill herbs into the garden or move pots outdoors. Slowly transition the herbs to direct sun a little each day to avoid scorching.

Herb	Recommended Pot Size	Water Needs	Fertility Requirements	Light Requirements
Aloe	6-12 inches	Low	Medium	South window
Geraniums Scented	6-10 inches	Keep moist	High	South window
Lavender French	6-12 inches	Keep moist	Medium	South window
Lemongrass	10-12 inches	Keep moist	Medium	South or east window
Lemon Thyme	6-10 inches	Keep moist	Medium	South or east window
Lemon Verbena	8-12 inches	Keep moist	High	South window
Mints	8-10 inches	Keep moist	High	South or east window
Rosemary	8-12 inches	Keep moist	Medium	South or east window
Sage Pineapple	8-12 inches	Keep moist	Medium	South or east window
Tarragon	8-12 inches	Keep moist	Medium	South or east window